General Administration

Fr John Hannan is back home in the General House after the visitation of several regions of the European province.

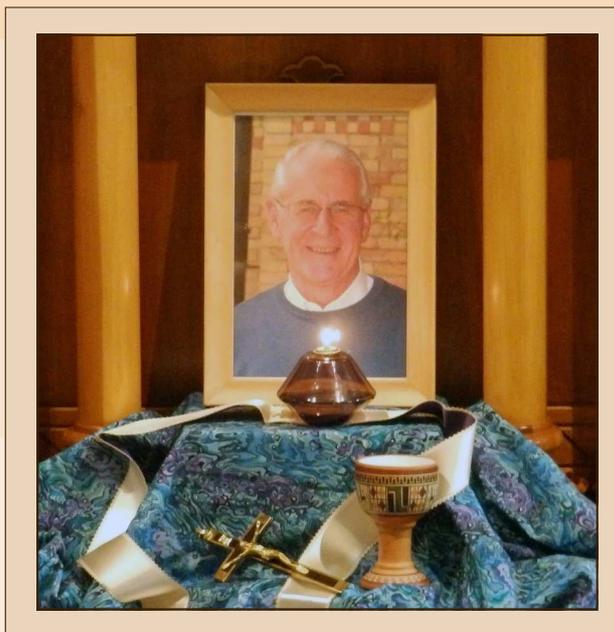

Fr Larry Duffy is in New Caledonia.

Fr Paul Cooney will be away for a short break of 10 days.

Craig Larkin commemorated in the General House

This morning in the General House a mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul of Fr Craig Larkin, who died in New Zealand last Saturday. The members of the General House community, the Mexican sisters and members of the staff, representatives from the general houses of the Marist Family and other friends who had known Craig in his many years in Rome were present at the Eucharist.

Fr John Hannan presided at the liturgy along with Frs Tony Corcoran and Justin Taylor. The three of them, together with Craig, had celebrated their golden jubilee of first profession and their 70th birthday two years ago in the same chapel of the General House. In his eulogy the superior general remembered Craig for his remarkable talents which he had used in a wide range of Marist ministries: as teacher, writer, formator, spiritual director, retreat director, provincial and vicar general of the Society. He described Craig as an inspirational and dedicated confrere whose love of the Society has been confirmed in many ways, and with a passionate commitment to the Marist religious life in fraternity, community, prayer and apostolic action. His contribution to the life of the life of the Society is particularly recognised though his many publications, above all "A Certain Way". He still had several other writing projects in the pipe line.

May he rest in Peace.
